

INQUISITION IN GAYLOR'S DEATH HAS BEEN BEGUN

Will Be Resumed Monday Morning—Moose Dictator Active.

The inquest into the death of Webb Gaylor, the Dixon man who passed away at the Lee County Infirmary Tuesday, was convened at the Staples, Moyer & Schumm undertaking rooms last evening by Coroner Whetston, the following jurors being selected: Frank G. Emmert, Uriah McKenney, Harry O. Wheeler, David S. Horton, Stephen Tippet and George C. Campbell. It was after 9 o'clock before the jury was obtained, and after hearing the evidence of the widow of the deceased, which told of his being taken to the County Infirmary, his age, etc., the inquest was adjourned until 10:30 o'clock Monday morning.

The inquisition of the witness was conducted by W. G. Kent, dictator of the Dixon Lodge of Moose, who demanded the inquest, and when the hearing is resumed Monday Mr. Kent hopes to be able to put a number of the inmates of the infirmary on the stand, and if possible question them concerning the administration of affairs at that institution. In view of the charges made against Supt. Wisner in a series of affidavits filed with the supervisors recently the questioning of inmates will be thorough, and it is understood the superintendent will be represented by an attorney when the inquiry is again taken up.

Moose Lodge Resolution.

Early in the hearing last evening Mr. Kent introduced into the record of the case the following resolution adopted by Dixon Lodge L. O. O. Moose: Copies of which had been furnished the authorities:

Whereas, Webb Gaylor, a brother in good standing of this lodge died at the County Infirmary on June 17, 1919.

And whereas, several serious complaints have been publicly made as to the treatment of sick inmates in said infirmary.

Therefore, be it resolved that the public authorities are respectfully requested to make a public and prompt investigation by an impartial committee of the conditions which at present exist and are reported to have existed at said infirmary.

Dated this 18th day of June, A. D. 1919.

Dixon Lodge No. 727,
Loyal Order of Moose,
By Frank Wadinski, Secretary.

In reply to a statement by Coroner Whetston that he did not "wish to go into affairs at County Farm," Dictator Kent said: "I am asking this jury to find out how the deceased came to his death. As a matter of course, to find that out, we will have to have witnesses and competent testimony according to the laws of the State of Illinois; that means witnesses. I want to know how the deceased came to his death and who the doctor was, if there was any, attending him, and who the nurse was who attended him, if any attended him."

During her examination Mrs. Gaylor testified that she did not know her husband was at the county farm, and she also stated that she had not known of his illness or death until notified by Mr. Kent by telephone on Tuesday night.

Flight of British Dirigible to U. S. Has Been Put Off

By Associated Press Leased Wire
London, June 19.—The flight of the British dirigible R-34 to America is definitely postponed until Germany decides what she intends to do regarding the peace terms.

Should Germany refuse to sign, according to one officer, the flight of the R-34 will be eastward instead of westward.

The airships, which now are engaged in a demonstration flight over Germany will return to their bases tonight and remain there until the German decision is announced.

"Bombs and machine guns were unnecessary in the present flight," said the officer. "Should they have to go eastward again however, these things may be needed."

The foregoing appears to dispose of reports in London last night that the R-33 and R-34 were armed for their eastward cruises.

JUDGE HEARD GIVEN HIGH PLACE IN ASSN.

Judge Oscar E. Heard upon his arrival in Dixon this morning received a communication announcing his election to the board of governors of the Illinois State Bar association and is receiving the congratulations of the members of the local bar. He has formally accepted the high honor that has been bestowed upon him.

A vacancy in the board of governors, which is made up of six of the most capable jurists of the state, has existed for a time and Judge Heard was elected to fill this vacancy the term of which expires in two years. The honor which has been bestowed upon him at this time is one of which he can feel highly honored and justly proud.

FOURTH NELLE'S DIVORCE CASE CIRCUIT COURT

Mrs. Lafayette Nelles is Again Seeking Legal Separation.

Judge Oscar E. Heard arrived in Dixon this morning and reconvened the unexpired term of the circuit court. The first case to come before the court was in the Amboy High school district matter. The case has been referred to the master-in-chancery for his investigation.

At 1:30 this afternoon, Mrs. Lafayette Nelles, of Viola township, formerly of Dixon, through her attorney, W. G. Kent, asked to be divorced from her husband. Attorney Edwards represents the defendant in the case. This marks the second marriage of this couple in five years, during which time four applications for divorce have been filed. The couple were married in Clinton, Iowa, in October, 1914, and a year later sought to be separated. Before the time for the case to be brought into court, by mutual agreement, they decided to live together again.

In 1916 another application was filed and this also was withdrawn by agreement, with the understanding that they would again try to agree. In the April term of last year, a third application was filed and a decree granted. Three weeks less a day, after the couple had been given a divorce they were reunited in marriage, Justice W. G. Kent performing the ceremony. He now appears for the complainant in an effort to secure a second decree. State's Attorney Harry Edwards appears for the defendant and during the matrimonial differences in the Lee county court has represented both man and wife at various times.

DO RIGHT THING BY HEROES, MAJ. GEN. WOOD ASKS

Says Patriotism Must Be Built Around Our Fighters.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Philadelphia, June 19.—"Our men fought with splendid courage. They lived up to the highest traditions of our military service, and in their performance of duty gained the admiration of Europe. They never failed; they always took their objective. Their courage was resistless."

Thus spoke Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood today at commencement exercises of the university of Pennsylvania.

Help Returned Soldiers

General Wood urged that this country must do the right thing by the returning soldiers. "If we do," he declared, "we shall have in the home of each home of them a center of patriotism and a spirit of service which will go far to keep alive a sound, patriotic spirit. A great part of the world is very much upset, and dangerous ideas are abroad. We want to keep our feet on the ground and hold to the ideals and policies which have made us great. We must do all we can to build up a sound national spirit, an intense spirit of Americanism."

Adjust Labor Complaints

"We must do all we can in this period of readjustment to maintain the best possible relations between labor and capital, for they are interdependent. We do not wish an autocracy of either capital or labor, but a real democracy in both, characterized by a spirit of co-operation and helpfulness."

One Flag—Our Flag

"There is room in this country for but one flag, and that is the American flag. Put down the red flag! It stands for nothing which our government stands for. It is against everything we have struggled for. The experience of the training camps brought out very forcibly the desirability of having but one language in our public schools, and that language should be the language of the Declaration of Independence of the constitution, of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, Cleveland and Roosevelt."

Stick to Allies

"Strong propaganda will eventually be brought to bear upon our people, with a view to driving a wedge between us and the allies, especially between ourselves and the allies, the kind which makes treaties and understandings enduring."

"We must do all we can to maintain that fine feeling which exists between ourselves and the allies, the kind which makes treaties and understandings enduring."

"While we welcome desirable immigration and extend a helping hand to those immigrants who come to us with the intention of adopting our customs and living up to our ideals, we should turn our faces against those who come to us with ideas repugnant to our civilization and with purposes and ideals hostile to our form of government."

"We must also look ahead to the establishment of a sound system of national preparedness; not a preparedness for war, but a preparedness which will be an assurance against war."

Police Get Leaders of Great Arson Gang

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Ill., June 19.—Anthony Knuckst, said by the police to be the brains of an arson band, was arrested early today. Four persons alleged to be members of the band of which Knuckst is the reputed head were arrested yesterday. Operations of these persons are said to have netted them $500,000 in Chicago alone, while their work in 26 Illinois cities and in Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin is declared to have been even more expensive to insurance companies.

NEW TIME CARD ON CENTRAL ON SUNDAY

A new time card, changing the schedules of both southbound and passenger trains, will go into effect on the Illinois Central Sunday morning. On and after that date No. 119, the morning southbound train, will leave Dixon at 7:30 a. m. instead of at 7:22, and No. 131, the evening train will depart at 5:03 p. m., instead of at 5:15. The change in the leaving time of the morning train is made to permit transfer of passengers from the Sterling passenger on the Northwestern.

ARMY TRUCKS TO PASS THRU CITY LONG JOURNEY

To Boost Lincoln Highway—More Members Are Wanted.

A. B. Whitcombe, Western District Consul for Illinois for the Lincoln Highway, has been notified by H. C. Ostermann, vice president and field secretary of the association, that a government truck train will leave New York July 7 for San Francisco, will make the entire trip over the Lincoln Highway, and of course will visit Dixon. The convoy will consist of 54 trucks and 225 men, including a number of government engineers, and it is expected the trip will definitely make the Lincoln Highway a federal highway project.

Worthy of Support.

Every citizen of Lee county who believes in road improvement, and who thinks that the Lincoln Highway, the great transcontinental route which now leads through this city, is a municipal asset and should be maintained here, is urged to give the Highway association his support.

A campaign is now in progress to secure sustaining membership in the Lincoln Highway association. The money is badly needed, and the Dixon public is asked to rally behind the movement, by contributing the small annual sustaining fee—five dollars. Other cities along the Lincoln Highway have large numbers of sustaining members who cheerfully contribute this fee, knowing well the good uses to which the money is put, and the necessity of supporting such a valuable institution. In Dixon, the public has not yet rallied to the aid of the movement in any considerable numbers. Coldness and indifference towards the highway improvement program at this time, it is represented, may be fatal to Dixon's opportunity, and an urgent appeal is sent out to the public to awaken the necessity of co-operation with the local highway officials, who without public assistance and support cannot hope to make the showing which will be necessary to retain the Lincoln Highway through this city in the future.

Cites Many Reasons.

Mr. Whitcombe is working hard, trying to stir up the necessary enthusiasm. He is making personal solicitation, and is putting in a lot of time in this highway work. At the request of the Telegraph he today cited the following reasons why the Lincoln Highway Association should receive the support of every Dixon citizen:

1. The Lincoln Highway is the longest connecting road in the world—3,323 miles from New York to San Francisco.
2. It serves 60 per cent of the population of the United States and 75 per cent of the registered motor cars.
3. It traverses twelve states and 96 counties and links three hundred and fifty cities, towns and villages.
4. Five years ago the Lincoln Highway was announced.
5. In five years it has become the best known road in the world.
6. Careful and conservative estimates show an actual expenditure of over $15,000,000 on the road in five years.
7. Detailed figures show $3,000,000 was spent in improvement on the Lincoln Way in 1918.
8. The Lincoln Highway Association is now spending $200,000 of its own funds in Utah, Wyoming and Nevada.
9. The Lincoln Way is now permanently marked from Omaha to San Francisco with heavy enameled red, white and blue signs, erected on iron.

SEN. SPENCER OF MISSOURI JOINS FOES OF LEAGUE

Introduces Resolution to Preserve Monroe Pact for Nation.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C., June 19.—Adoption of the Knox resolution regarding the league of nations and the peace treaty would be interpreted as an uncalled for effort by the senate to dictate to the peace conference, Senator Thomas, democrat, Colorado, said today in opposing the measure. The Colorado senator declared the proposal that the senate declare itself now against accepting the league as intertwined with the peace terms was improper and unwise.

Before Senator Thomas spoke, Senator Spencer, republican of Missouri, who had not previously indicated his views regarding the league of nations, introduced a resolution proposing that the senate declare that under any league plan adopted application of the Monroe doctrine must be reserved entirely for national determination. The resolution went over without action.

Doctrine Is Essential.

The Spencer resolution would declare the Monroe doctrine "an essential national policy" and that "the necessity and extent of its application and enforcement are matters to be determined alone by the United States."

The tariff, immigration and like internal questions would be declared "matters to be determined entirely by the country in which they arise and under no circumstances questions for settlement under the league of nations."

The resolution would declare also "that the United States cannot bind itself in advance to either make war in the future or to send its army and navy into other lands for purposes of control."

SHOWDOWN ON LEAGUE NEAR.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C., June 19.—Plans to force a showdown on the league of nations in the senate before signing of the peace treaty at Versailles were further considered today at conferences of league opponents. Several opponents were under consideration. One would call for a test vote in the fight over Senator Knox (atmosphere) resolution proposing to serve notice that the senate cannot accept the league covenant as now incorporated in the treaty. Another suggests passage of a resolution declaring the war at an end, and still another proposes a round robin to show the strength of those opposing the league.

WILSON CONTINUES TOUR OVER RUINED PARTS OF BELGIUM

As Guest of King Albert He Appeared Before Lower Chamber.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Brussels, June 19.—President Wilson, who reached the Belgian capital last night after a day's trip from the border which took him through the districts devastated by the war, began the second day of his visit to Belgium this morning by motoring to Charleroi with King Albert. The king expected to show the American executive the destruction wrought by the Germans in the mines at Charleroi and supply him with documentary information of the whole sale and systematic destruction practiced by the Germans.

The president was not accompanied on the Charleroi visit by Mrs. Wilson, who was some what fatigued after yesterday's trying journey.

Visited Deputies.

A luncheon at the American legation, the appearance of the president before the Belgian chamber of deputies and his reception by Cardinal Mercier at Malines, were a few of the features on today's program.

The president and King Albert set out on their trip to Charleroi at nine o'clock. They were accompanied by M. Jaspard, the minister of economics and a numerous suite.

On stepping out of the palace this morning the president found several thousand persons assembled there who clamored for a speech. He responded with his first public talk, which was confined to a few words.

"My friends," said the president, "in coming here personally I have merely followed my own heart and the heart of the American people towards Belgium."

In the palace the president had met all the members of the Belgian cabinet, and Cardinal Mercier. By calling first, the cardinal offered a diplomatic route for the president's call upon him at Malines today.

Labor Addresses Him.

The general council of the Belgian labor party has addressed a message to President Wilson, in which it says: "The labor party repudiates any peace of violence and awaits the reign of a definite peace assuring the sovereignty of labor and the triumph of President Wilson's principles."

The address recalls the intervention of the United States in the war and adds: "If the working classes everywhere were masters of their destinies it is beyond doubt that the president's program would have completely triumphed at the peace conference and Belgium would have obtained complete reparation for the losses she suffered."

TAX BILLS MAY KEEP ASSEMBLY UNTIL SATURDAY

Adjournment Will Be Delayed Owing to Court Ruling.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Springfield, Ill., June 19.—Another delay to adjournment of the legislature was encountered today in the discovery that a decision of the supreme court yesterday would knock out tax rates affecting West Park district in Chicago, and that action of the general assembly would be necessary to cure the trouble.

Plans now are for amendment of bills on third reading in the house to remedy the tax rate difficulty. This will make necessary recall of the measures to second reading and postponement of final action by the house until tomorrow. The senate then will be able to concur in the house amendments before noon.

Opposition of downstate representatives, chiefly among the democrats, to the first of the 69 tax rate adjusting bills gave color to the impression of some legislative leaders that the house might be in session until Saturday. The tax adjustment bills are made necessary by passage yesterday of the initial bond increase bill of Senator Glackin to enable Chicago and other cities to increase bonded indebtedness.

Devine Opposes Bills.

Representative Lee O'Neil Browne, of Ottawa, renewed his fight on the bonding bills and his position was supported by Representatives Kasserman, Devine and others. They were defended by Majority Leader Shurtliff and others.

Before taking up the tax levy bills, the house defeated the Atwood bill intended to permit counties to erect memorials for soldiers and to levy taxes. It was sponsored by Winnebago county.

House Exonerates Wright.

The house adopted the report of the legislative point investigating committee which exonerated Governor Lowden and Omar H. Wright, finance director, from charges of William H. Malone, a member of the state board of equalization, that the governor and Mr. Wright had threatened abolition of the equalization board if tax assessments of the Pullman company were increased.

The senate today reconsidered the resolution of Senator Clark memorializing congress to provide "adequate protection" to American lives and property on the Mexican border and the resolution was adopted without a record vote. Senator Clark moved reconsideration.

By a vote of 93 to 35, the house this afternoon passed the first of the Glackin bills adjusting tax rates to the initial bond increase measure. This was taken to indicate the success of the Chicago "more bonds" program. Sixty-eight bills remain to be acted on. The bill passed would scale down the Chicago city rate from $2.15 to $1.43, and the downstate city rate from $2 to $1.33.

INCREASED RAIL RATES IF ROADS ARE GIVEN BACK

Robert Woolley Tells Bankers Price Rise Would Follow.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Old Point Comfort, Va., June 19.—Return of railroads to private operation during the readjustment period would occasion a necessity for increased freight rates that would mean a rise in prices in this country "the apex of which no man could predict," Robert M. Woolley, member of the interstate commerce commission, declared in an address here today before the annual convention of the Virginia Bankers' association.

Owing to the cut in railroad revenues caused by diminishing traffic during the readjustment period and other conditions, said Mr. Woolley, the interstate commerce commission would be forced to grant an increase in rates if the roads were returned to permit them a fair revenue. For these readjustment conditions would prevail, he said, regardless of whether operation of the roads was retained by the government or relinquished to the owners.

"Isn't it far sounder economics," said Mr. Woolley, "to take care of any deficit from carrier operations out of the national treasury, whose coffers are replenished through taxes levied where they can best be borne, than to force by their return an increase in rates?"

30 Per Cent Boost Needed

The opinion is held by railroad officials generally, said Mr. Woolley, that a rate increase of at least 30 per cent would be necessary upon return of the roads. This, he declared, would mean another saving through the "vicious circle" of mounting prices, estimating that such a rate advance would be reflected "four-fold" in the price of finished commodities to the consumer. At the end of the "circle" he said, when labor and raw material costs had been raised to a level commensurate with the rate advance, the railroads would find themselves in exactly the same position as before the advance and the interstate commerce commission upon a showing of inadequate revenues by the railroads, must again authorize an increase in rates.

"Bearing in mind," Mr. Woolley concluded, "that the three principal elements in the cost of the finished product are the price of the raw material, the price of labor and the price of transportation, aren't you refraining from increasing freight rates, piling down one corner of the vicious triangle?"

ARMY RECRUITING SQUAD IN THIS CITY

ROAD IMPROVEMENTS ARE MOVING SWIFTLY

The work of paving the Lincoln Highway east of Franklin Grove is progressing rapidly and very shortly the contractors will begin pouring the cement. At present the grading and building of road and side entrance culverts is under way and rapidly nearing completion.

Highway Commissioner James Penny yesterday moved a great deal of his road making machinery to a point east of the Sandusky cement plant. The stone crusher has been placed in position and will soon be ready to turn out materials for the rebuilding of the River road. Lines and grades were established a few days ago in front of the cement plant where a great deal of repairing is necessary, this being one of the worst spots on the road.

GERMANS CHANGE ATTITUDE TOWARD TREATY OF PEACE

More Favorable Trend is Noted in Word From Berlin.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
German feeling toward the peace treaty appears to be taking a more favorable trend. Although the peace delegation headed by Count Von Brockdorff Rantzau is represented as decidedly opposed to acceptance of the revised allied terms, the latest dispatches from Weimar where the German cabinet and national assembly are considering the treaty, reflect a different viewpoint.

The majority socialists, the present dominant political force in the German republic, are declared in these dispatches to be more favorably inclined toward the treaty than at first, while the clericals and the democrats of the left wing are reported to be swinging in the same direction. One report from Berlin represents the people of the capital as resigned to the future, desiring only to see the treaty signed and the suspense ended.

In the meantime, however, rumors of an exciting nature are printed in London newspapers, it being said that the British grand fleet is prepared to sail on short notice for German waters, and that British dirigibles are already near the German coast, if not over German soil.

The dirigible R-34, which the British were intending to send out on a trans-Atlantic voyage late this week, is said by one report to be over the Baltic, armed with bombs and machine guns and ready for action. Her sister craft, the R-33, is reported to have left last night on a cruise which will include the Kiel canal. One thing definitely known is that the R-34 will not start on her projected trip for America until the German situation is cleared up.

Only minor affairs are being taken up by the minor officials of the peace conference, in the absence of President Wilson in Belgium. Efforts are being made to adjust the railway communications between Fiume and Trieste and Vienna to the satisfaction of Italy, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia. This problem seems quite difficult and may be left over to be considered by the league of nations.

The attempt of sparsian and communist adherents to stir up riotous conditions at Weimar, seems to have been definitely defeated, as no disorders have been reported since Wednesday morning's futile attempt to break into the castle where the cabinet members are quartered.

Demonstrations by French sailors at Brest Tuesday night and Wednesday seem to have died down, although a recurrence of the trouble was feared there, according to last reports.

MORE OPTIMISM PREVAILS

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, June 19.—While admitting that it has little direct or comprehensive information regarding the German attitude toward the signing of the peace treaty, the American delegation to the peace conference is optimistic in its view of the situation. In common with peace conference circles generally, the delegates are not disturbed by the newspaper reports from Germany received here, of an unfriendly nature toward the revised terms.

"SIGN," BERLIN EDICT

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Berlin, June 18.—"Sign the treaty and be through with the agony," is the gist of the comment of the people of Berlin today.

After the wrath provoked by the moral indictment contained in the covering note of the allied answer, the residents of Berlin seemed to have resigned themselves to the inevitable.

"Rather the end with terror than terror for a cruise which will include the Kiel small merchant put it today."

WAR PREPARATION MADE

By Associated Press Leased Wire
London, Thursday, June 19.—(Delayed)—Morning newspapers feature British naval and other preparations in the event of Germany refusing to sign the treaty of peace and print under big headlines several unofficial reports which were current during the night.

The grand fleet has again been placed on a war footing, it is reported, and is ready to sail for German water at a moment's notice. It is also stated that the dirigible R-34 has been diverted from her trans-Atlantic trip, equipped with bombs and machine guns and has been sent or is going to the Baltic, while her companion aircraft, the R-33, similarly equipped left Wednesday night for a cruise which will include the Kiel canal.

A telegram from Copenhagen reports the arrival there of a dozen British cruisers and several destroyers prepared to enforce the blockade.

According to some reports, the R-34 which is now over the Baltic, is either armed or loaded with bombs, but is undergoing a final trial preparatory to her Atlantic voyage. The Daily Sketch says the R-34 was over Berlin at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Tornado Sweeps Pike County; One is Dead

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Quincy, Ill., June 19.—A tornado swept Pike county Wednesday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock. D. L. Harkey, aged 50, with his team, was killed while at work in a field near Elbert, Ill. A barn with two horses and filled with grain, belonging to Andy Brown, near Barry, Ill., was struck by lightning, the horses being killed and the contents destroyed. All grain in the path of the storm, which began at New Canton, Ill., and swept eastward, was leveled.

GERMANS CHANGE ATTITUDE TOWARD TREATY OF PEACE

More Favorable Trend is Noted in Word From Berlin.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
German feeling toward the peace treaty appears to be taking a more favorable trend. Although the peace delegation headed by Count Von Brockdorff Rantzau is represented as decidedly opposed to acceptance of the revised allied terms, the latest dispatches from Weimar where the German cabinet and national assembly are considering the treaty, reflect a different viewpoint.

The majority socialists, the present dominant political force in the German republic, are declared in these dispatches to be more favorably inclined toward the treaty than at first, while the clericals and the democrats of the left wing are reported to be swinging in the same direction. One report from Berlin represents the people of the capital as resigned to the future, desiring only to see the treaty signed and the suspense ended.

In the meantime, however, rumors of an exciting nature are printed in London newspapers, it being said that the British grand fleet is prepared to sail on short notice for German waters, and that British dirigibles are already near the German coast, if not over German soil.

The dirigible R-34, which the British were intending to send out on a trans-Atlantic voyage late this week, is said by one report to be over the Baltic, armed with bombs and machine guns and ready for action. Her sister craft, the R-33, is reported to have left last night on a cruise which will include the Kiel canal. One thing definitely known is that the R-34 will not start on her projected trip for America until the German situation is cleared up.

Only minor affairs are being taken up by the minor officials of the peace conference, in the absence of President Wilson in Belgium. Efforts are being made to adjust the railway communications between Fiume and Trieste and Vienna to the satisfaction of Italy, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia. This problem seems quite difficult and may be left over to be considered by the league of nations.

The attempt of sparsian and communist adherents to stir up riotous conditions at Weimar, seems to have been definitely defeated, as no disorders have been reported since Wednesday morning's futile attempt to break into the castle where the cabinet members are quartered.

Demonstrations by French sailors at Brest Tuesday night and Wednesday seem to have died down, although a recurrence of the trouble was feared there, according to last reports.

MORE OPTIMISM PREVAILS

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, June 19.—While admitting that it has little direct or comprehensive information regarding the German attitude toward the signing of the peace treaty, the American delegation to the peace conference is optimistic in its view of the situation. In common with peace conference circles generally, the delegates are not disturbed by the newspaper reports from Germany received here, of an unfriendly nature toward the revised terms.

Paris, June 5.—(By Mail.)—Being forced to travel back to America a bed patient, does not keep the American soldier nowadays from enjoying a good movie on board ship. lastic movie fans, their opportunity to see Charlie Chaplin, Doug, Fairbanks and others being the result of an adjustable movie machine which the Y. M. C. A. is using on transports to throw pictures on the ceilings of the sick-bays or wards, where the worst cases are placed.

The ceiling screen movie on ship-board came as the result of experiments that have proven successful in American hospitals in France, the pictures in these cases being thrown on the plain white ceiling without the use of a screen. The machines used are small, and are adjusted at an angle that makes a perfect picture-show possible. The men in the sick-bays are said to be the most appreciative movie-audiences with which the "Y" has dealt in all its work in the A. E. F.

BIRTHDAYS REMEMBERED—

James Ballou, member of the Baldwin Camp, U. S. W. V., and Mrs. Lester Street, of the U. S. W. V. Auxiliary, were made guests of honor at a birthday surprise party given last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ballou. The affair was arranged by Mrs. Ballou and members of the auxiliary and the guests were largely from the camp and auxiliary. Dr. and Mrs. Frank Dornblaser, of Amboy, were the only out-of-town guests and as it happened the day also marked their ninth wedding anniversary. This was discovered after their arrival and added to the list of delightful surprises. Each of the guests of honor were remembered with gifts. Enjoyable refreshments were served during the evening by Mrs. Ballou. Tables and the house interior were gay with garden flowers. Five hundred was the evening's diversion.

GIVE CHARIVARI—

On Monday evening as Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, nee Miss Frances Levan, just returned from their honeymoon, were quietly planning their new home, they became aware of the noise of tin pans, and many other noise making instruments in the hands of charivariers. They invited the charivariers in and presented them with a ten dollar bill to purchase treats. As the hour was late, the guests decided to spend the next evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hanson where the treats, ice cream and cigars, were enjoyed, together with music and a social time.

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

By JANE PHELPS.

PLANNING A NEW LIFE

CHAPTER CXXIV.

Neil had kept the faith. Never had I been so proud of my husband, never loved him so dearly as when he had sacrificed the larger opportunity because he thought it not right to leave the man who had befriended him, but who would have still been his friend had he done so. The last vestige of working for his own selfish aggrandizement had disappeared. He was a man to be proud of, to love.

"Why didn't you tell me of Chase's offer?" I asked later in the evening.

"Because I had decided not to accept it, and discussion was useless."

"But Neil it shows you are—that you have reinstated yourself, doesn't it dear?" I seldom mentioned that time of trouble.

"Yes, Bab. If I could forget it myself, I feel so small so mean when I think that I once put my ambition before family, friends, even honesty. I have tried to make recompense, if I live long enough I may cease to think of that time with such poignant regrets. I hope so."

"He hath done what he could," I quoted. "Do you remember that passage in the Bible. 'No one could do more than you have. No more could be required. Let us not talk about it again Neil. Let us begin now after the war to live a new life. So many have been changed by what has happened here, many more than we imagine will begin to count their real living from the time we demobilize. We will do so too. We have each other, our health, our darling boy who is growing more manly every day and five thousand a year. Why Neil we have so much for which to be thankful that we should be ashamed to allow a single regret to enter our minds now that we have really done all humanly possible to make things right denied ourselves in every possible way to make good. Try and be happy now dear—for my sake and for Robert."

"I will, Bab." You have the right idea. Powers has been mighty nice to me lately, and has asked after me every time I have seen him. He's the kind who has no use for a man who isn't straight, but who is willing to help a man who tries to do right. I guess I know you felt awfully hurt at one time because they dropped us. I imagine they would not do it now.

"No, I don't think they would. But I have no social aspirations. Neil, not of the kind I used to have. A few friends, as father said, and those in our own walk in life, those right here where we live, are all I crave now. What I do want is to own a home. Suppose we save enough to buy a nice lot and then as soon as we can build a nice little home of our own, and furnish it. That would be heaven."

"The very thing that has been in my mind. But you have been so economical, so willing to go without I thought I would not mention it for a while. You need clothes, and a rest from housework. I feel guilty when I see you working so hard."

"Well you needn't. Haven't you worked hard too? I'll get a dress or two and a hat. But I can wear very simple things down here. They won't cost much. Suppose we walk around tomorrow night after you come home and commence looking for a lot."

"All right. It suits me."

The next afternoon the postman brought me a letter in a strange but somehow familiar handwriting. It was from Blanche Orton. She was in Italy, had been there most of the time during the war, doing my bit as best I could she said. Tim she told me her news:

"I am to be married to Count. He is charming, about my age and while his fortune has been diminished by the war, he still has enough. And my dear Mrs. Forbes I love him. I can see you smile. I know you must think of me as the most mercenary creature alive. I used to be. But no one could go thru this war and not lose something of selfishness."

"I often think of you, of your husband. He was one of the cleverest men I ever have known. And you—I haven't words to say what I think of you. He will some day find a chance to come into his own again, then you will have your reward. I saw a man from New York the other day who told me of what he did thru the war, how he worked, and that he had paid his debts in full. I have always felt guilty because of the part I played (for money) altho I never knew that stock was sold without investigating the properties. I tell you this because I want you to think as well of me as you can."

"Remember me to your husband, kiss that darling big boy of yours for me. I sign myself for the last time, Blanche Orton."

ALVIN YORK, U. S. A., RETIRED.

Attempts to exploit Alvin York, the "greatest hero of the war," who captured a whole German battalion single handed, have failed.

He and his bride were to receive many honors at the hands of the people of his state, and then were to be taken in a sumptuous private car to the Rotarian meet in Chicago. But York refused to go, saying that all this hero worship which was to be heaped upon him "is only a snare of the devil, and unbecoming to an elder of the church." So he and his mountain girl are going back to their mountain cabin to live simply and cleanly, preaching and practicing old-fashioned religion in their daily lives.

And who shall say that they are not wise? What has the big, showy, noisy, acclaiming world to offer Alvin York one-half so wholesome, so lasting and satisfactory as the life he will find in his native hills?

The nation has cause to be proud of this brave man who was sent to Europe to kill Germans and who therefore made killing Germans his business; but it has just as much cause to be proud of the sturdy independence and the deep religious feeling which makes him turn aside from all its pomp and flattery to the simple things he knows make for happiness and peace.

INQUISITION IN GAYLOR'S DEATH HAS BEEN BEGUN

To Pay For Inquest.

Mr. Kent stated that he had secured an inquest on his personal promise to pay the costs of the inquisition in case the county authorities failed to do so, and in a statement to the jury said: "This investigation is prompted by the Moose lodge, of which I am Dictator and of which the deceased was a member in good standing. There is evidence that we didn't know he was in the County Infirmary, and we didn't know he was in need, otherwise he would have been helped. As to his death, we want to know how he came to it. And in view of the complaints of cruelty that apparently have been practiced at the County Infirmary where the deceased died we demand an investigation and inquest. I may state that I took the matter up with the Supervisors and the State's Attorney and Judge Whetstone over the telephone yesterday and the statements made to Judge Whetstone by the State's Attorney and Supervisor Sterling were such that an inquest was refused. This inquest is called at the demand of the Moose Lodge, and I feel justified in view of the complaints made to investigate conditions surrounding the death of this man, and feel perfectly justified, according to the law. I want to get witnesses and the doctors and the people at the farm who live at Eldena."

There are but three mats of ivory in existence. The largest one measures 8 by 4 feet; and, although made in the north of India, has a Greek design for a border. It is used only on state occasions, like the signing of important state documents. The cost of this precious mat was almost incalculable, for more than 6,400 pounds of pure ivory were used in its construction. Only the finest and most flexible strips of the material could be used and the mat is like the finest woven fabric.

DEATH-DEALING RECIPE FOR ARMY WORM IS GIVEN

Co. Advisor Says This "Dope" Will Kill Dread Insects.

Army worms are becoming numerous in Lee county and are working havoc on some of the crops, according to reports that have been received at the office of the county advisor. The worms have been discovered working in fields of rye and timothy. Farmers are urged to watch for the appearance of the army worm among their crops and notify the office of the advisor at once.

The worm can be killed by a poison bait, which is composed of the following ingredients: 25 pounds of bran, one pound of Paris Green, one gallon of molasses and three oranges or lemons. This is mixed to a paste and scattered about the infested field. Another recognized method is to plow a furrow about the infested land, throwing the dirt back toward that part occupied by the worm. Post holes are then dug into the furrow, thus preventing their spread to other fields. The worm is said to start in grass along the fences, where the eggs are hatched and then migrate to the fields. Last year two large fields of oats in Lee county were practically eaten up by these pests.

SUMMER CAMP OF COUNTY ASSN. IS PUT OFF TO AUG.

The first Lee county Y. M. C. A. camp has been postponed, according to a statement given out from the office of County Secretary Walter B. Holliday. The outing which was to have been held at Camp Blackhawk near Oregon will not be held until the last week of August. Several reasons have been given for the postponement, the most important of which is the fact that the boys of the county organization are needed on farms at this time and cannot spare the time to attend the camp.

The water in the river at the camp site is also considered dangerously high at this time and it is expected that by the latter part of August much more interest will be manifested and a larger attendance present. The executive committee of the Lee County Y. M. C. A. met yesterday afternoon at the office of the county secretary in Amboy and plans were considered for the camp. Primary plans for the athletic program of the summer season and for the sending of Secretary Walter B. Holliday to the national conference at Lake Geneva were also discussed.

The secretary will attend the conference at Lake Geneva which opens July 9 and concludes July 24. He expects to make the trip by automobile. Mrs. Holliday accompanying him. At the conclusion of the conference they will motor through northern Wisconsin spending a two weeks vacation.

CORN DELIVERIES REACH NEW HIGH MARK FOR SEASON

Chicago, June 19.—All deliveries of corn reached today new high to prices for the season. Scarcity of offerings was responsible. Profit taking sales which at first eased the market were soon exhausted, and then shorts becoming nervous competed sharply until holders were again tempted to realize. Opening figures, which ranged from 1c lower to 1/4c advance with July 1.79 to 1.80 and Sept. 1.72 to 1.72 1/2, were followed by material upturns all around. Oats paralleled the action of corn. After opening unchanged to 1/4c off, including July at 71 to 71 1/2, the market scored general gains. Lower quotations on hogs weakened provisions, especially lard. Subsequently, however, strength of corn led to realize. Later the market dipped to below yesterday's finish, but buying on country account brought about fresh upturns. The close was firm at 1/4c to 1/2c not advance, with July 1.81 to 1.81 1/2 and Sept. 1.74 1/2 to 1.74 3/4.

THREE DIVORCES GRANTED IN TWENTY MINUTES TODAY

Three divorces granted in 20 minutes. This was a record established in the Lee county circuit court this afternoon. Judge Heard went to the bench at 2 o'clock when the first case was called and at 15 minutes past the hour, the differences between three couples had been closed. Mrs. Lafayette Nellis was granted a decree on the grounds of drunkenness and cruelty and allowed to resume her maiden name. Mrs. Fern Smith in her bill set forth drunkenness as the chief grounds of action against Andrew J. Smith. Mrs. Rose Timmons claimed that Lawrence Timmons deserted her in 1917. Attorney W. G. Kent appeared for the three parties who secured decrees.
